Steady growth of operating efficiency in the E&P segment In 2003 and of average well debit, with reduction of the water cut, thanks to successful implementation of the first stage of a complex program to optimize development and production of oil. Average well debit in 9M 2003 reached 9.6 tons per day compared with 8.8 tons per day in 2002. Watercut decreased by 1.1% down to 76.3%.

Lifting costs LUKOIL successfully controls lifting cost. For the period Company's lifting costs reached $2.6/bbl flat y-o-y.

Net profit. In the nine months of 2003 net income, including cumulative effect of changes in accounting principles and the net gain on the sale of our sharer in PSA Azeri, Chirag, Guneshli, equaled USD 3,065 million, or USD 1,718 million more than during the nine months of 2002. Net income before cumulative effect of changes in accounting principles equaled USD 2,933 million, or USD 1,586 million more than the same period of last year. The growth in revenue and stable operating expense partially offset by an increase in transportation expenses and taxes resulted to significant increase in our net income.

Stable production growth.
